

Blueprint Briefing: Energy Policy

Featured speaker:

John Hofmeister, President - Shell Oil Company

From Washington to Madison to Milwaukee, energy policy has never been a hotter topic. MMAC is pleased to give you a front row seat in this discussion, as we welcome John Hofmeister, President of Shell Oil Company, to Milwaukee to speak on U.S. Energy Security.

Following Hofmeister's address, he will be joined for a panel discussion on energy issues by:

Robert Garvin - A Wisconsin Public Service Commissioner for the past six years, Garvin is one of Wisconsin's foremost experts in state and federal energy and regulatory policy. With an extensive background in both government and the utility industry, Garvin is a widely sought after speaker and writer nationally on energy issues.

Michael Loth - Director of Solutions Marketing for Johnson Controls, Inc. JCI is a national leader in energy efficiency and demand management technology. The company's technologies have been highlighted by leaders in business and government, including President George W. Bush, as key tools to reducing U.S. dependence on fossil fuels.

Neal Verfuert - President and CEO of Orion Energy Systems. Orion Energy helps companies use innovative energy strategies to achieve sustainable cost savings and deliver meaningful environmental benefits. In 2004, Verfuert received the Ernst & Young manufacturing "Wisconsin Entrepreneur of the Year" award. In 2006 Orion was named to the Inc. magazine annual top 500 list.

MMAC Blueprint Briefing Series

MMAC's public policy agenda - the Blueprint for Economic Prosperity - addresses the critical challenges facing the Milwaukee Region. To keep informed and involved in the latest developments surround these issues, MMAC presents its Blueprint Briefing series

<http://www.mmac.org/display/router.asp?DocID=488&Event=939&StartDate=03/20/2007>